BrainBoost Evidence

The fictional campaign reached active students ages 14-18, but engagement and sales were low. Customer feedback says the bar looks like other snacks, the reason to try it is unclear, and the audience does not see a need.

Observable message/visual evidence from the workbook:

One-sentence problem statement (cause, not only result):

List at least six distinct solutions. Do not invent health/nutrition outcomes, discounts, reviews, scarcity, popularity, or personal-data collection.

This image shows a blank sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.

Three-Solution Plan
